TASK FORCE OBJECTIVES

The Group discussed the purpose of the task force and referenced an email sent to the group by Deanna to narrow the purpose as outlined. "To assist the Kirkwood Arts Commission and City Council of the Kirkwood MO in their determinations as to whether the City should adopt and administer a percent for art program." The group agreed the statement of the purpose will be used.

Jim has already found a few ordinances for cities of our size and begun to research them and compare them. Initial deliverables will be research on ordinances of cities with similar population to Kirkwood by James Erwin.

Ellen Spoke about sensitivity to City needs: Be sensitive to economic situation of our times. There are competing, and, possibly complimentary and worthwhile projects already on the City agenda, such as those encompassed in the Masterplan and the City's pedestrian plan. We should emphasize the importance of quality in art incorporated into the City's urban scape. We should seek Art that will appeal to the residents of the City. It's important to have a rationale for art projects that will appeal to citizens, such as diversity of experiences and enhancement of the urban experience. Money for percent for art projects could be incorporated into development projects on public land opened for development for private developers.

The group agreed that a suggested public arts program and percent for art ordinance be delivered to Kirkwood City Council review within 6 months.

Kyle set up the zoom meeting. He provided information on City contacts and will be the liaison to the City for the Percent for Art Committee's initial work.

A discussion about a regular meeting time took place and a decision was made to meet once a month.

A task force update report will be given by one person, to the Kirkwood Arts Commission

ADJOURNMENT - Meeting adjourned at 11:30 a.m.
